

GRADE

8

D91 Pathway to the Common Core Standards
English Language Arts

In grade eight, students will read major works of fiction and non-fiction from all over the world and from different time periods. They will continue to learn how to understand what they read and evaluate an author's assumptions and claims. They will also conduct research that will require the analysis of resources and accurate interpretation of literary and informational text. Activities in these areas will include:

- Identifying what a reading selection explicitly says and drawing inferences based on evidence from the text
- Analyzing the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including analogies or allusions to other texts
- Evaluating the argument and specific claims in a text, assessing whether the reasoning is sound and the evidence is relevant and sufficient
- Connecting information and ideas efficiently and effectively in writing
- Analyzing the purpose of information presented in diverse media formats, such as video clips or interactive maps
- Participating in class discussions on various topics, texts, and issues by expressing ideas and building on the ideas of others
- Developing a large vocabulary of multi-use academic words and phrases
- Interpreting figures of speech, such as puns or verbal irony, in context

Partnering with your child's teacher

Don't be afraid to reach out to your child's teacher—you are an important part of your child's education. Ask to see a sample of your child's work or bring a sample with you.

Ask the teacher questions like:

- Is my child producing quality work?
- What are my child's strengths and weaknesses?
- What additional support or resources can I provide my child at home?

In grade eight, students will read a wide range of literature, including stories, plays, and poems. Additionally, they will read to learn information about history, the world, science, and other areas. Here are just a few examples of how your child will develop important reading skills across grade levels.

Helping your child on the path to success...

1. Create a literacy rich home by modeling reading and critical thinking.
2. Have your child journal about his/her day in order to practice proper writing skills including grammar, spelling, punctuation, capitalization, complete subjects/ predicates, etc. Have your child read at least one entry a week to you of their choice.
3. Choose a novel that you and your child are interested in. Read the novel and then discuss certain aspects of the book together such as, actions that the main character(s) participate in, decisions that the characters make, emotions, events, etc.
4. Check out the teacher's webpage each week to see what is happening in the classroom and link to activities and resources.
5. Encourage your child to question facts that he/she learns by having them look up information that he/she has questions about. For example, have your child "Google" information that he/she would like to know about, find directions to a new place that the family is traveling to, or look up words that are unknown in conversation or in print. Have your child become familiar with the many resources that available today!
6. Read a book and see the movie. Help your child make comparisons through discussion where he/she can defend opinions and pick out details.
7. Read your child's writing samples, including final drafts and provide feedback.
8. Make time for conversation at home. Discuss current events, shared interests, and future aspirations for education and career.
9. Visit museums, zoos, theaters, historical sites, aquariums, and other educational places to help increase your child's exposure to new knowledge and vocabulary.
10. Make sure all high school summer reading is complete before freshman year.
